October 2017

PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Another month has passed and hopefully the weather improves in the near future and we feel more like getting out with our cameras. The Ballarat Photo Biennale is over for another year and in my opinion was a very interesting event and showcased the talents of a diverse range of photographers. We have some product samples and discount vouchers from Momento photo books which I will bring to the October meeting for your perusal. They also supplied us with a gift voucher for $150.00 which comes off your photo book order. See Franks flyer in this addition of Flare to find out how you could win this prize.

The Inter Club competition with the Ballarat Photography Group was hosted by our club this year and we won by a narrow margin. The night was quite successful but a disappointment to me was the lack of numbers of our members in attendance, with us being out numbered by Ballarat Photography Group members. This seems to have been the trend over the past number of years and I wonder if it would be better held on a Wednesday night as we are getting large numbers of members at our monthly club meetings.

Murray and Judy Mc Eachern have kindly volunteered to host the December end of year barbecue at their house on Wednesday the 6th of December 21 Rathkeale Ave Mount Helen and I would like to thank them very much for taking on this role. I have been pleased with the positive response from members when asked to take on some of the many and varied tasks involved in the running of our club.

The outing to Serendip Sanctuary is on the 22nd of October weather permitting. I will email details closer to the time.

Ballarat Camera Club V's Ballarat Photography Group

The Ballarat Camera Club has won this years competitions. It was a very close in the overall scores and a credit to all those who have submitted entries. A big thank you to Peter Kervarec. Peter was a magnificent judge which I hope people learnt from his words of wisdom. I personally learnt a lot. Another big thank you to all the helpers setting up before and on the night.

If you have submitted entries and you have not picked them up can you please see me, so I can give them back.

Geoff James
Inter-Club Co-ordinator
